STOP AIDS:KEEP THE PROMISE
ALFAOMEGA IS HERE, MANTUA IS HERE

01/12/06 – 15:00 to 18:16

- Country: Italy
- City: MANTUA
- Venue: SORDELLO'S SQUARE

Hope, warning and need to participate to the 2006 HIV-AIDS prevention campaign. Since 1990 Alfaomega voluntary members association has been undertaking to aid adults and children suffering from HIV/AIDS. Since then, Alfaomega has been active during the World Aids Day, presenting its prevention policy against the spreading of the pathology. It will be present also this year, to honour the 1st December. What will we do?

ALFAOMEGA IS HERE, MANTUA IS HERE

We have thought to young people as supporters of the “Stop AIDS: keep the Promise” message, so that they can awaken the social and political awareness. They can also stir up the behaviour of managers, politics, men of culture and all those people which every day work for health, education and human development.

Inspired by the Italian classical expression “breaking the eggs” that means upset the plans, keep of doing something to protest and to show uneasiness, we have planned our day against AIDS.

Red-Party is going to be an informal meeting in the most important square of our city. There, young people can have the chance to shout “STOP with the HIV infection”, to tell which are the disease’s way of transmission, to let the others remember how to protect themselves and, last but not least, to stimulate everyone’s interest.

A 3X6 metres motor vehicle, the one purposely used to show advertising placards, will carry a huge target with in its centre the message “STOP AIDS”.

To express this message, everyone will be invited to through an egg at the target. It symbolize an important breaking of patterns, of silence, of institutional reasoning, of self-interests and lack of sympathy.

We will send a chain of SMS, give out leaflets with written on it a web-address which has been created for this event, all done to invite young people to this unique Party which takes place at 3 p.m. in Sordello’s Square in Mantua.

Red-Party is going to be an useful meeting to break fears and bigotry; with an unusual kind of improvised music, while drinking a cup of tea made by Alfaomega, young people will stay together, will receive informative booklets and they will “break the apathy”.
